About me

I'm a systems thinker disguised as a designer, with 13+ years of experience in Brand and Digital product design. I specialize in scalable design systems, human-centered UX, and strategic flows that solve real problems, — especially in SaaS, E-commerce, AI and Fintech. From MVPs to enterprise redesigns, I turn complexity into intuitive, trusted experiences. I thrive where logic meets empathy, and design meets system. If you're building something meaningful, let's connect — I love collaborating with founders and purpose-driven teams.
